

3 part series for parents (grades K-6)

Featuring Tim Jahn, M.Ed of the Cornell Cooperative Extension's Family Health & Wellness Program

Active Parenting NOW

The video-based parent education series will address how to

- improve communication with our children; teach responsibility and other important values;
- handle problems as they come up;
- cope with difficult topics such as drugs, bullying and sex;
- defuse power struggles; stimulate independence as our children grow older and
- encourage our kids to be their best!
